Yes, we can do that. She's had some good contributions to the discussion so we'll want to acknowledge that!

Hi Paul,

Marina has asked that we send to her manager a note about her participation in reviewing the formaldehyde assessment through the PKWG. I think that it is more appropriate that the chairs or the management liaison of the PKWG write this type of letter because you all know more about the mechanics of the review and her time etc.

Regards, Barbara

Hi Marina,

Of course I am very happy to write a letter and I am very appreciative of the time you have spent on reviewing and constructive comments. This may seem strange but I am thinking because of the altered organization of our IRIS assessment development process into these specialty groups, that the chairs and management lead for the PKWG would be more appropriate to send such a letter. I will broach the subject with them.

Regards, Barbara

Dear Barbara:

I see that Ravi forwarded you my note asking for written confirmation that I was a reviewer for NCEA. I have told my management that I am doing this, as part of my PKWG commitment. However, there appears to be more desire from NHEERL management to have their staff acknowledged.

This is not my first experience with a risk assessment team. You may know that I am a co-author in the TCE risk document and enjoyed being part of that team. I have tried to pass comments based on that experience and hope that my comments have been helpful to you.

I would appreciate your help with this matter. A very brief email confirming that I have given you time my time would do.

Thank you again,

Marina
